The Burial tells.

Hath an aged one died? are they bearing the clay Of the honored or lowly, to the tomb, to-day? The dirge they sing, Is sung o'er the dead, And the tears that spring
O'er the sleeper's bed,
Tell not who is gone,—or the honor'd, or lowly,—

Tell not who is borne so soleranly slowly!

Slowly, solemnly move they along; Slowly and solemnly chanting the song, And the sigh and the moan And the tear drop tells, A tale as lone As the tale of the bells. But on with trembling step and slow, They bear the bier to its dwelling low!

Now ask ye where the bier they are bearing Watch the guiding tapers glaring!
By its sepulchre-home
It is resting now, And they gaze as they come On the death-sealed brow. 'Tis as pale as the pallid moonbeams light That sleeps on the snow on a winter's night!

'Tis not the aged nor honor'd nor lowly They bear along so solemnly slowly, For the taper-light O'er the coffin streaming, O'er a fair young sight Shed its ghastly gleaming!

And the white rose wreath on the marble brow, And the jewel'd hand, tell the death-broke vow!

But the chanting bath ceased and the dirge is done, And they've left her to sleep in silence alone; They have left her to sleep By the sad-singing tide Which seems to weep O'er the early died! And the light of the morn will gild her grave As it trembles at dawn o'er the sal-voiced wave!

It was here that she said in her maiden pride, "Oh! bury me here, by the wild-songed tide! Oh! bury me here,
Where no flow'r may bloom

DAVIES SYSTEM OF MATHEMATICS. DAVIES' SYSTEM OF MATHEMATIOS.

THIS series, combining all that is most valuable in the various methods of European instruction, improved and matured by the suggestions of more than thirty years' experience, now forms the only complete consecutive course of Mathematics. Its methods, harmonizing as the works of one mind, carry the student onward by the same analogies and the same laws of association, and are calculated to impart a comprehensive knowledge of the science, combining clearness in the several branches, and unity and proportion in the whole. Being the system so long in use at West Point, through which so many men, eminent for their scientific attainments, have which so many men, eminent for their scientific attainments, bave passed, and having been adopted as Text Books by most of the colleges in the United States, it may be justly regarded as our national system of Mathematics.

GREAT VEGETABLE REMEDY!! DR. H. B. MYERS' SARSAPARILLA, WILD CHERRY AND DANDELION For Purifying the Blood-All Disorders of the Kidneys.

And the care of every disease arising from Impure Blood, Inactivity of the absorbents, or disordered Digestion;—such as Bihous Diseases, Consumption, Dropsies, Gravel, Scrofuls, Ship Fever, Liver Complaints, Fevers, Female Complaints, Summer Complaints, Impotency, Dyspepsia, Nervous Affections, General Debility, &c. This Extract is put up in large bottles containing twenty-four ounces. It combines the properties of a Detergent, Diuretic and Tonic. Cures without purging, griping or sickening, and while it removes disease, cleanses, braces and strengthens the system. It is stronger, better and cheaper than any other arti-

or excess.

PREPARED BY DR. H. B. MYER, BUFFALO, N. Y.

For every disease which this Extract professes to cure, it contains ingredients chosen for their special adaption to its relief.

This valuable medicinal preparation operates as an Alterative and Detergent, a Diuretic and Tonic, and in proper cases as a Stomachic and emmenagogue. It cases pain, procures rest, and relieves nervous affections. Generally expressed, it increases all the secretions and exerctions, and excites action in the glands in a particular manner. It is no simple or common "Extract of Sarsaparilla," but a compound—a combination of many of the most potent vegetable remedial agents to form each modifying the effects of the other, and increasing its beneficial tendency, a remedy more powerful and healing in its action on the human frame, than any of them separately.

Entirely vegetable, and formed with a basis of the best specifies—Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry and Dandelion—it acts with the ease of the mildest restorative, yet produces results unreached by the most violent remedies. Possessing combined, all the landed virtues of the greatest cleansing medicines, it adds others, gently acting on the Kidneys, or having particular reference to some internal organ—thus at once eradicating the existing disease, cleansing every portion of the body, and renovating and refreshing the system.

effective remedy for the class of diseases it is intended to cure." New Haven, Ct., Nov. 1, 1849. PROF. CLEAVEL AND, of Boudoin College. Maine, Writes—"I have witnessed the effects of your CHERRY PECTORAL in my own family and that of my friends, and it gives me satisfaction to state in its favor that no medicine I have ever known has proved so eminently successful in curing diseases of the throat and lungs."

REV. DR. OSGOOD Writes-"That he considers CHERRY PECTORAL the best medicine for Pulmonary Affections over given to the public," and states that "his daughter, after being obliged to keep the soom four months with a severe settled cough, accompanied by raising of blood, night sweats, and the attendant symptoms of Consumption, commenced the use of the CHERRY PRETORAL, and and completely recovered."

THE REMEDY THAT CURES. Dr. Ayer:—I have been long afflicted with Asrama which grew yearly worse until last autumn; it brought on a cough which confined me in my chamber, and began to assume the alarming symptoms of Consumption. I had tried the best advice and the best medicine to no purpose, until I used your CHERRY PECTORAL, which has cured me, and you may well believe me, Gratefully yours.
